WELCOME

4-H is a community of young people across America who are learning leadership, citizenship, and life skills.

Welcome to the 2022 New London County 4-H Exposition.

4-H'ers continue the education and fun which started more than 100 years ago! Join us for a weekend of 4-H memories, friendship and recognition. Participate in the 4-H spirit of giving, caring, working and sharing which makes our 4-H Exposition a success.

We thank our parents, leaders, mentors, and the volunteers who work with us, lead us, and support us. Thank you to the North Stonington Grange and the North Stonington Agricultural Fair Inc., our advertisers and award sponsors for your continued support of 4-H.

Our Fair and Expo is open to the public. Close family and friends are especially welcome. There is an admission fee: 12 and under youth— FREE, Over 12 years old-$3.00, Seniors-$2.00, Weekend pass-$5.00

There is no licensed rabies vaccine for some animals. Exhibitors and visitors, be vigilant in washing your hands after contact with animals. This precaution is necessary for the protection of the public and the animals. Let's keep everyone safe and healthy.

- The Executive Committee will use all diligence to ensure the safety of exhibits after their arrival on the grounds but will not be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur. The 4-H Fair Association and North Stonington Grange will not be held responsible for or liable for any accident that may occur on the grounds.
- The Executive Committee composed of 4-H Exposition officers and mentors and the Extension 4-H Program Coordinator shall have the power to give recognition to any exhibit for which there is no appropriate class.
- No alcoholic beverages or illegal drugs will be allowed on the fairgrounds at any time. Any 4-H member in violation of this rule will not be allowed to show or exhibit his/her project and will forfeit all prizes. Adults will be asked to leave fairgrounds.
- Once animals are safely unloaded, only 4-H'ers may work with them. In a situation where safety is an issue, an adult may assist.
- Each Superintendent has an adult mentor. Problems, questions of rule interpretation and need for help should be brought first to the attention of the 4-H superintendent and adult mentor for that exhibit area. They will consult the Executive Committee for a decision if warranted.

New London County 4-H Fair Robotics Competition 2022

The Challenge: Power Cell Mania

Calling all Robots! An energy crisis is upon us, and our society needs new forms of clean energy. Robots of all shapes and sizes are needed to rapidly move power cells to areas of our community in critical need.

Sound exciting? Then keep reading...

The Game Objective

Two competitors on opposite sides of a playing field race to a shared stockpile of energy cells. The stockpile contains many ping pong balls (a.k.a. energy cells) that need to be deployed to areas of our community in dire need. Each competitor scores as many points as possible by retrieving energy cells from the stockpile and placing them in their respective power distribution centers in a three-minute-long match.

Who Can Play?

You do not have to be in 4-H to participate. You can be just starting out or be really experienced with designing and programming your robot.

Check out the details:

You can enter one of these categories for the competition: novice, junior, or senior. Novice is any competitor ages 7-18. If you have never competed with your robot in any robotics event, you can enter this category. A junior is any competitor ages 7-12. A senior is any competitor ages 13-18. All ages are determined as of January 1, 2022.

Still interested? Then read these details...

How Do I Play the Game?

You and another competitor will compete head-to-head starting at opposite ends of the field. For the start of each match, you can position your robot anywhere on your side of the field, but your robot cannot touch or hang over the plastic barrier that divides your side of the playing field from the power cell stockpile. During each match, your robot will retrieve the power cells (ping pong balls) and place them in your power distribution centers. Points are awarded depending on the skill level required to place each power cell into a particular power distribution center. Your robot is restricted to operate on your assigned side of the field and within the shared stockpile. Operating on your opponent's side of the field is prohibited. If this happens, you will incur a two-point penalty and you will have to immediately return your robot to your side of the field.

You will play at least two matches that will last for three minutes each; these matches will start with an autonomous mode and may transition to teleoperated mode. For novices and juniors, the autonomous mode is optional while the seniors' autonomous period will be the first 45 seconds. For autonomous operations, the robot will run on the code you program it to use to retrieve and place the game pieces into one of your distribution centers. Scoring will be higher in autonomous mode due to the added complexity of the task.

Hint--use your sensors and your ingenuity to build robot systems that can score you points!

Once the autonomous portion of the game is completed, it's your choice if you want to continue playing the remaining portion of the match in the autonomous mode or switch to the teleoperated mode. Operating in the teleoperated mode means you control the robot using manual controls from a computer, a portable electronic device (phone, tablet, etc.), or a remote control. You continue trying to score the most points by successfully retrieving and placing the game pieces.

Specifics about the Game Pieces and Scoring

The game pieces are easy to acquire, so you can practice for the competition at home. Pieces are standard ping pong balls of any color which simulate power cells. Your robot will retrieve these power cells from the center portion of the field (a.k.a. stockpile) or from loose power cells already on your side of the field. The stockpile will be barricaded by a ¼-inch-high plastic bump that your robot will need to successfully navigate over as part of the game.

There will be multiple locations on your side of the field to score points during the game: the power pit (novice and junior divisions only), the raised power stations, and the power reactor (senior division only). You earn points by placing or shooting the power cells into these different power distribution centers. Each power cell that you place in your raised power stations will earn three points (six points in auto) while each power cell you place in the power pit will earn only one point (two points in auto). For the senior division, shooting or launching the power cells into the power reactor's fusion chamber will earn five points (ten points in auto). Note: the power pit will be removed from the playing field for the senior division.

Check Out the Scoring Locations and Point Break-down

General/Power Pit Locations (Cutout areas on each end of the playing field) (Note the stockpile location in the center)		1 Point (2 point auto)/Power Cell for score in the Power Pit. Junior and novice only
Raised Power Stations Front wall is 1.125 inches tall, 2.75 inches deep, 7 inches wide		3 Points (6 points in auto)/Power Cell score in the Raised Power Station
Power Reactor is mounted on the perimeter of the playing field and is centered above the power pit cutout. The center of the Fusion Power Reactor door is 8.0 inches above the playing field floor and the hexagon door measures 4.0 inches across (measured from opposite sides).		5 Points (10 points in auto)/Power Cell score in the Power Reactor (ball shot or thrown through the fusion chamber opening). Senior division only

Now, Let's Look at the Playing Field

The overall playing field dimensions are 83.5 inches x 47.5 inches. There is a 5 inch x 15 inch cutout in the field floor centered on your end of the playing field as depicted in the diagram above. This cutout is the power pit scoring area for junior and novice divisions. The raised power station is also depicted on the diagram; the raised power station is centered 23.5 inches from your end of the playing field. The stockpile is 9 inches wide and is outlined by two rows of ¼-inch-high plastic barriers. The plastic barrier on your side of the playing field is 35 inches from your end of the field.

The surface of the playing field will be constructed of a medium-friction material and painted with a matte green finish. Additionally, the playing field perimeter will be enclosed with a thin plywood border that is painted red.

How Will the Winners Will Be Determined?

Your highest score from the two matches you play will be the score that determines if you qualify to advance to the tournament. There will be separate novice, junior, and senior tournaments. There will be a winner from each category.

Details about Your Robot

Your robot must be designed, built, and programmed by you. Your robot should physically fit within a 12 inch x 12 inch x 12 inch volume at the start of the match. However, attachments can extend past this volume during the game. For the autonomous portion of the game, your robot needs to run and be controlled entirely by computer code running on your robot's processor. Manual controls of any kind are prohibited during the autonomous portions of the game. During the teleoperated period, your robot may receive commands from a controller. If you use a LEGO EV3 infrared controller (remote control), your computer code must be able to accommodate at least two different channels of operation to prevent interference between you and your opponent.

There's a Robot Presentation, Too—But Don't Sweat It!

You will be required to give a short robot presentation to the judges before the competition begins. This presentation will be a friendly discussion about how you designed, built, and programmed your robot for the competition. Please bring printed copies of your code to give to the judges. This is an opportunity for you to develop your public speaking skills while demonstrating your knowledge of how you designed your robot to work. This part of the competition will not be scored.

Competition Registration

It's free to enter the competition. We ask that you (4-Hers and non-4-H'ers) please use the registration form in the fair book to register for the robotics competition. While you can enter the competition upon arriving for the event, registering ahead of time helps us plan. Thank you!

Free Workshop

You are welcome to attend a free competition workshop at the fairgrounds before the robotics competition. 4H will also provide EV3 robots and iPads for programming available for use during the workshop and competition. You can practice on the actual competition playing field. Judges and mentors will be available to answer questions about how to design and program your robot.
Saturday Workshop: 1:00-3:00 p.m.
Sunday Workshop: 10:00 a.m. –12:00 p.m.

Chet Perkins Sportsmanship Award

This award is in memory of Chester Perkins, a 50-plus year leader of the Quad H Nutmeggers Club of Stonington, Connecticut.

Chet taught that good sportsmanship and courtesy to others is always more important than any amount of trophies and ribbons.

May the 4-H'er who receives this award, always exhibit good sportsmanship, courtesy, and kindness to others.

The award is presented at the New London County 4-H Horse Show, and is donated by former Quad H Nutmeggers Leader Susanne Robinson.
